Leading Change through Mindfulness and Creativity

Why Join Us: Developing the Leader within You

One of the biggest challenges current and future leaders face is to be able to "lead themselves" before going out and leading others.

Handling Change in an Uncertain World by Changing Yourself First

Change is ever more present in our daily lives, especially at work where digitalization and globalization are changing the script on a daily basis. Our job requirements are increasingly demanding and stressful: finding and starting a satisfying job, changing jobs and adjusting to new organizational cultures - from an established company to a start-up (or the other way round!) or taking on management responsibilities after starting as a developer, to just name a few. To remain effective and productive, we have to be able to cope with the change and adapt to the new environment quickly and comprehensively. Is this process of "reprogramming yourself" currently an unconscious step for you? Would you like to be able to manage your own change process more holistically, intentionally and effectively?

This Two-Day Deeply Engaging Seminar Will Help You

- ✓ be more efficient when working with teams and colleagues whose values, beliefs, communication styles, and even worldview may be significantly different from your own;
- ✓ deepen your creative potential whenever you are faced with the new and unfamiliar – be it in the form of a person, project or place;
- ✓ efficiently deal with ambiguous situations, decision points and conflicts;
- ✓ stay open to inspiration even in the midst of uncertainty and change.

PL helps us to reflect on ourselves and others using a clear, comprehensive and yet adaptable six-step architecture for our thought-process. This is based on the two underlying principles of mindfulness and creativity.
